Psychosexual Care of Women with a Gynaecological Cancer 2013

Tuesday 19th February

Recommended: For all health professionals caring for women with a gynaecological cancer

Content: Topics will include:

Dimensions of sexuality
Effects of gynaecological cancer and their treatments on physical, social and sexual functioning
Key principles for psychosexual communication
Referral pathways
Psychosexual assessment
Treatment strategies for women suffering mild to moderate psychosexual effects of cancer

This course is based on the online course available on the internet at http://modules.cancerlearning.gov.au/psgc/

The resources and content used in this course have been developed and by funded by Cancer Australia.

Venue: King Edward Memorial Hospital -DNAMER /Teaching Room 2

Time: Full day or half day-maximum participants 30
Workshop 1 (covering Modules 1,2,3) - Morning
Workshop 2 (covering Modules 4, 5, 6) - Afternoon

Points: RCNA CPD points will be applied for this programme.

Cost: Internal Nil
Public Sector Employees $18.70 half day $49.50 full day
Others $49.50 half day $99 full day
(Price includes GST, morning tea and lunch)

Contact: Department of Nursing and Midwifery Education & Research
Phone: 9340 1545
Email: Natalie.Williams@health.wa.gov.au

Online application: Visit MyHR (My Learning and Events) to submit an internal application. (preferred method)

This educational activity has been endorsed by APEC no. 060728303 as authorised by the Royal College of Nursing, Australia, according to approved criteria.

This document forms a part of publication WNHS 0263b, produced by DNAMER ©December 20012, Rev 9, September 2012.